

G. O. P. PLAYS CARD OF TARIFF DEBATE

Closure Petition, Signed by Fifty-Five, Goes to Senate Wednesday.

This week is to develop some definite plan as to the fate of the pending tariff bill in the Senate, according to a decision today by republican leaders in informal conference. It was announced that on the bill, which has been in circulation about ten days, would be presented in the Senate next Wednesday and voted on the following Friday.

The closure petition, which requires sixteen senatorial signatures for presentation, and which was signed by fifty-five of the republican members of the Senate, was delivered today by Senator Curtis of Kansas, republican, to the Senate clerk, Mr. McComb, manager of the tariff forces. Senator McComb conferred with other republicans and decided to present the motion Wednesday. The motion must be taken under the rule of the Senate, which says that it will be taken on the day it is presented.

That the necessary two-thirds vote for closure could not be secured, according to the sponsors of the petition. Several democrats were said to have been secured, but a whole was expected to line up generally against it.

Each of the closure move, republican leaders said, would at least demonstrate a desire on the part of the majority to bring the bill to an early vote. That that afterward if substantial progress was not made on the bill they were prepared to fight for the proposed new closure rule, recommended recently by two republican conferees instead of a two-thirds vote.

MILLER WILL ACT IN CHEMICAL CASE

Alien Property Custodian Will Demand Patents' Return.

The alien property custodian, Thomas W. Miller, will lose no time, it was learned today, in making demand upon the Chemical Foundation for return of German dye patents and other property turned over by the foundation property custodian during the Wilson administration, and, in fact, was believed to be ready to make the move against the foundation.

Shortly after the Fourth of July holiday, it was learned, the official demand is expected to be forwarded, as directed in President Harding's letter made public Sunday.

Announced at German. Announcement by Francis P. Garvan, former alien property custodian and now president of the Chemical Foundation, that he resented the further "attack" upon the foundation, and would refuse to submit his property was not taken seriously in official circles, upon the foundation over the fact that Mr. Garvan had considered the order of the President of the United States to return of the patent properties as only another attack by enemies of the foundation.

Representative Woodruff, republican, Michigan, who has attacked the Department of Justice on the grounds that it had been remiss in prosecution of war frauds, described the President's action as "splendid," and added that he would continue to support the view of the charges made in Congress at various times that the foundation had acquired from alien property custodians of German patents worth from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 for approximately $250,000.

Democrats Recall Hearings. Democratic members of Congress generally have pointed to Mr. Garvan's testimony in the Senate committee, headed by Senator Short, republican, California, in answer to these charges. Mr. Garvan before that committee said that the foundation acquired the patents, copyrights and other similar property through a sale made under an executive order of President Wilson. Authority for the sale, he told, was contained in the order of the President to return of the patent properties to the trading-with-the-enemy act.

Mr. Garvan also when before the committee stated that the foundation showed that the stock of the corporation was owned by a group of persons, including a German, who had been in the United States since 1914 and under whose circumstances.

GLOOM IN SCANDINAVIA OVER RATHENAU SLAYING

Press Pessimists Regarding Europe's Future—Social Democrats Criticize Entente's Attitude.

By Wireless to The Star and Chicago Daily News. Copyright, 1922.

STOCKHOLM, July 3.—Foreign Minister Walter Rathenau's assassination in Berlin has thrown the Scandinavian newspapers into the gloomiest depths of pessimism regarding Europe's future and has called forth bitter complaints upon the course of events as dictated by the allied powers. In both Sweden and Norway the social democrats blame the entente for pushing Germany beyond her limits and weakening the feeble new republic. Premier Branting's Journal, the Stockholm Social Democrat, in a leading editorial in a lengthy editorial inspired by recent events.

"Three years of nightmare peace," it says, "have passed since the treaty of Versailles was passed with no sign of change but with every indication that the day of true peace is far away. The belief is becoming general that this day will not arrive until the treaty of Versailles is discarded, because it is driving Europe to murder, civil wars and blind hate. Will war break loose again as in 1914 and under worse circumstances?"

DOCK STRIKE AT MANILA

Wage Cut Followed by Tie-Up of Interisland Shipping.

By Wireless to The Star and Chicago Daily News. Copyright, 1922.

SIX STRIKING RAIL UNIONS OUTLAWED BY LABOR BOARD

The vote began at brotherhood headquarters here this morning. E. F. Grable, grand president of the brotherhood, announced that if a majority of two-thirds to three-fourths of the vote is found to favor a strike the men will be ordered out.

Grable declared that, although 280,000 of the 450,000 maintenance of way men employed on the American rail lines are affiliated with the brotherhood, the 170,000 non-union workers have been given opportunity to vote and their wish, as expressed by the ballots being canvassed today, will be considered before those of the brotherhood members.

A strike order was withheld Saturday by President Grable following a hearing before the Labor Board in Chicago. At that time the brotherhood had declared certain concessions had been given and all workers were urged to remain at work pending a meeting of the Grand Lodge officers. Reports received here indicate that approximately 25,000 maintenance of way men already have gone out.

If these reports are correct, Grable declared, their action was due to two reasons. First, because of a misunderstanding, and secondly, because they are in sympathy with the shopcraft workers.

Strike orders have been prepared at the brotherhood headquarters and are being sent to the various divisions of the country. Should the canvass of the vote today show the majority considered necessary by President Grable, the members will be dispatched immediately calling out every member of the organization except those necessary for public safety.

"If we find, after going over these ballots, that from two-thirds to three-fourths of the maintenance of way men have voted in favor of the strike, the vote will be considered by the Grand Lodge and I will then become my duty, as president of the brotherhood, to sanction the strike," Grable said.

Post Office Department officials today stated that the railroad shopmen's strike was not interfering in the least with transmission of mail matter in any section of the country.

All postal divisions of the railway mail service have been notified to advise Washington immediately in the event of any development which might hinder the proper movement of the mails.

TREES WORTH VISITING. Those in Calaveras Grove Have Age of Centuries.

From the New York Times.

One of the most interesting sight-seeing places in California for the lover of trees is Calaveras Grove, famous for the grandeur and age of its big trees. The grove is privately owned and is a small tract of land in the headwaters of the San Antonio, at an elevation of 4,700 feet. In the grove are trees, each thirty feet in diameter, and more than seventy trees between fifteen and thirty feet in diameter.

One of the trees, now down, "the father of the forest," must have been 450 feet high and forty feet in diameter. In 1851 one of the largest trees, ninety-two feet in circumference and over 300 feet high, was felled by lightning. It took twenty-five days felling it, using large axes. The stump of this tree has been smoothed off, and now is a smooth, thirty-two feet in diameter. In 1851 a newspaper, the Big Tree Bulletin, was printed there.

Near the stump is a section of the trunk twenty-two feet in diameter and twenty feet long. Beyond lies the immense trunk as it fell, measuring 302 feet from the base to the extremity. Upon this was situated a barroom and tennis alley, stretching along the upper surface for a distance of eighty-one feet, affording ample space for two alley beds side by side.

At the entrance to the grove were, until 1915, two fine trees called the Sentinels. Only one is now standing, the other having been blown down by the great windstorm of 1918. South of the Sentinels and to the right of the road on the hillside are the famous four hundred feet in diameter, which has been named Old Dowd, in honor of the discoverer of the grove, and which was felled in 1852. The south grove extends three and one-half miles and contains 1,350 large trees. The grove is not considered a large tree.

PUSH FOR FISCAL PROPER CONFERENCE PLANS

Citizens Seek Best Method of Presenting Case for Taxpayers.

A conference was held today in the office of Edward F. Colladay, chairman of the citizens' joint committee on fiscal relations, on how to present the case for the taxpayers of the District before a joint select committee of Congress, which is to start an investigation of the fiscal relations between the federal and District governments on Thursday.

Mr. Colladay, who is also vice chairman of the executive committee, called into conference all of the members of the executive committee comprising attorneys, business leaders and accountants. As a result of the conference today, Mr. Colladay will prepare a brief for the citizens of the District which he will be ready to lay before the joint congressional committee when it holds its first meeting on Thursday.

Pleased Over Chairman. Gratification was expressed at the conference over the fact that Alonso Tweedle, for twenty-four years connected with the District auditor's office, for fifteen years as auditor for the District and later controller general of the Shipping Board, who is thoroughly familiar with the minutest details of the fiscal affairs of the National Capital, has consented to act as chairman of an auditing committee, representing the District taxpayers.

One of the most important questions which the citizens joint committee is endeavoring to have answered in the interests of the citizens of the District, is whether an auditor representing the citizens will be allowed to observe the work of the auditors representing the joint congressional committee. If the committee allows this, as seems probable, Mr. Tweedle will take direct charge of reviewing the work of the fire audit to see that the taxpayers of the District get the fullest possible consideration in the auditing of their accounts.

Final Plans Unsettled. Chairman Phillips of the joint congressional committee, said today that he was not at all sure what officials representing the District government and what officials representing the taxpayers would be present at the conference, which he has called for Thursday. He expects that the majority of the committee will be made up of the citizens of the District, although he is the only member of the joint committee who is in town today.

Chairman Harris and Ball, and Representative Hardy of Colorado, are expected to return to the capital on Wednesday. They will have been advised, Representative Evans of Nebraska, and Representative Christian of Wisconsin, who are expected to return to the capital on Thursday, because they have gone to their home districts to review the work of the fire audit to see that the taxpayers of the House, which is until August 15.

DE VALERA'S HOTEL TARGET OF SHELLS IN DUBLIN BATTLE

York street was a more difficult operation. In this engagement the republicans displayed considerable resources, all managing to escape except three who were wounded. The attack was made by an armored car and a machine gun, which were in an undertaking of the establishment nearby. The fight lasted several hours.

The republicans, who were strongly entrenched, had hung a horsehoose outside a window. They declared their luck would last as long as the horsehoose remained. The casualties in Sunday's fighting in Dublin were eleven killed and six wounded, including a hundred irregulars who were captured.
